

Rating Action: Moody's Ratings affirms ATIDI's IFSR at A2, outlook stable

18 June 2025

NOTE: On June 19, 2025, the press release was corrected as follows: The second sentence of the second paragraph under Ratings Rationale was revised to "Two sovereigns are in arrears and we believe there is a risk that ATIDI may face recovery challenges in one case depending on the outcome of ongoing discussions regarding its potential classification under the G20 Common Framework." Revised release follows.

London, June 18, 2025

Moody's Ratings (Moody's) has today affirmed the A2 insurance financial strength rating (IFSR) of The African Trade Insurance Agency (known as African Trade & Investment Development Insurance, or ATIDI) with a stable outlook.

RATINGS RATIONALE

The rating reflects ATIDI's growing member base, leading to a more diversified portfolio, strong capital adequacy and good profitability, despite the challenging sovereign credit environment across a number of key African countries. The rating also reflects ATIDI's preferred creditor status (PCS) with members, strong relationships with a number of global reinsurers that provide significant loss mitigation and its high quality and conservative investment portfolio. These strengths are partially offset by the high risk nature of its insured exposures and membership base, dependence on reinsurance for underwriting capacity and limited direct access to capital markets.

We believe risk relating to recoveries under ATIDI's PCS, where it aims to recover claims in full from member sovereigns, has increased. Two sovereigns are in arrears and we believe there is a risk that ATIDI may face recovery challenges in one case depending on the outcome of ongoing discussions regarding its potential classification under the G20 Common Framework. We expect the financial impact from these two sovereigns to be largely immaterial, given further improvement in ATIDI's net portfolio leverage and strong underlying profitability, which supports our stable outlook. However, evidence of further challenges to ATIDI's PCS, including enforcement of a haircut, may lead to us taking negative rating action.

ATIDI's capital has continued to grow rapidly, to $829 million at March 2025 from $699 million at December 2023, reflecting retention of profits and a continually growing membership base. We expect capital to reach $1 billion over the medium term. Given the challenging operating environment and the company's conservative underwriting risk appetite, this has driven low net exposure leverage of less than 1.5x which we expect to continue reducing as capital grows.

Despite having limited direct access to capital markets, ATIDI maintains good relationships with large development finance institutions that have regularly funded a portion of the capital contribution required for countries to become members, or extend their memberships, of ATIDI, which has been an indirect but steady source of capital for ATIDI. It also benefits from a number of institutional members, including large international DFIs and private insurers, which diversify its membership base outside of Africa.

-- OUTLOOK

The stable outlook reflects our expectation that ATIDI will absorb potential losses arising from PCS challenges without a significant deterioration in underlying credit metrics due to its strong capitalisation and underlying profitability and extensive reinsurance protection.

FACTORS THAT COULD LEAD TO AN UPGRADE OR DOWNGRADE OF THE RATING

The following factors could lead to an upgrade of the rating: (1) Significant strengthening of franchise including materially expanded membership, greater regional diversification and higher market shares; (2) ongoing enforcement of preferred creditor status leading to minimal claims, net of recoveries on a sustained basis; (3) strong capital adequacy, with net portfolio leverage remaining comfortably below 3x; and (4) demonstrated ability to retain strong reinsurance support.

Conversely, the following factors could lead to a downgrade of the rating: (1) An increase in net insured portfolio leverage to be consistently above 4x shareholders' equity or a reduction in shareholders' equity of more than 10% over a one-year basis; (2) a sustained increase in claims, net of recoveries; (3) significant reduction in reinsurance availability or quality of reinsurers; and (4) deterioration in ATIDI's franchise, including its standing with members and ability to enforce its preferred creditor status.
